

Dear Commissioners:

I urge all of you to support Commissioners Copps' and Adelstein's request to delay the pending June 2 vote on deregulation to allow for public education and input on this critical matter. There has been a major media blackout on this issue. Our democracy requires free and open airing of information and opinion, but with corporate owned media the public has been left out of the discussion. It is the FCC's job to protect the American public from stifling of critical information for private advantage. Support the public's chance for full and open airing of this proposed change in media concentration with its vast implications for our democracy. Diana Edelman, Woodstock, NY
